March Lion Roaring Today

March made an appearance like a lion Monday with temperatures lingering below the zero mark, but Alberta was feeling complete relief from the crippling snow and wind storm that swept down on the province last Friday.

Temperatures, after rising from 26 below to four above Sunday afternoon, fell to eight below again last night. No sharp climb in temperatures was expected today, although the estimated high today is eight above.

The 26 below, however, registered Sunday at 7:30 a.m., was only the third lowest experienced during the winter.

Outlook is for continued cold with little snow.

Air traffic through Edmonton, with the exception of a few trains, has completely returned to normal. Bus and air traffic was running on schedule and most trains were arriving on time, but one train is reported to be four hours late.

Officials of the weather office in Edmonton reported that with the six inches of snow that blanketed the city Thursday and Friday, snowfall for the winter is about 13 inches more than normal.

Additional Plows Clear South Roads

CALGARY, March 1.—(CP)—Additional snow plows from the northern and southern districts were called into service this morning to help South Alberta clear itself from last week's blizzard.

Official snow plows worked full time during the weekend to clear roads still blocked by the storm. Up till noon, reports indicated the north and south highways were passable, and cars could travel to Turner Valley through Okotoks, to the Millarville area. The highway was open to a point three miles west of Strathmore but there was still a lot of snow on the Calgary city limits where motor vehicles had to travel over it.

The plow which left Drumheller early Saturday morning reached the city Sunday night. The earlier clearing work by the road had blown over.

Five Railwaymen Killed, Five Injured in Snowplow Crash

Snowplow Drives Into Rear of Standing Engine

Five railway men were killed and five others badly injured Saturday night in Alberta's worst railway accident in more than a decade when a northbound CNR snowplow crashed into the rear of a standing engine near Hanna, fronting about 150 miles from Edmonton.

Hanna is approximately 150 miles southeast of Edmonton. Dead are: Edward Lloyd, 47, of Hanna, engineer of the engine; Blazenski, section foreman, of Alask, Sask.; N. A. Ravion, section foreman, and J. Slodnick, sectionman, both of Marenco, Sask.; and A. Ochrowski, sectionman, of Kindersley, Sask., all members of the snowplow crew.

Injured are Mike Sokos, section foreman, of Kindersley, in critical condition in Hanna hospital, who was the fifth member of the plow crew; and W. J. Graham, section foreman, of Morris, Sask.; A. J. Stevenson, section foreman, Flaxcombe, Sask.; C. Krezwick, section foreman of Alask, Sask.; and J. Halcuz, sectionman, of Kindersley. According to police, the plow was enroute from Kindersley to Edmonton when it struck the rear of the standing engine. The plow was a total wreck.

Exact cause of the accident was not known today. Railway officials are inclined to attribute it to drifting snow. The engine crew on the plow locomotive, James Slater, engineer, and Robert Halcuz, section foreman, Hanna, escaped injury. They were riding at the rear of the plow. No inquest has been set yet, but an investigation is continuing. Bodies were removed to White's Funeral Home, Hanna.

Supreme Airpower United States Aim

U.S. Policy Board Asks Spending Ten Billion Yearly

By James I. Stirling

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—The congressional aviation policy board said today the United States needs 35,000 warplanes and must spend nearly $10,000,000,000 a year on air strength.

Asserting the world lives "under a sense of impending tragedy," and that the United States is "continuously" subject to attack, the board said the job of building up supreme air power must begin now and should reach the level of 100,000 by 1953.

The proposed expansion program would mean at least doubling the number of planes now in the air force and navy air arm. It would multiply by five the present rate of warplane production. The bipartisan panel of 10 senators and representatives was unanimous in its report, made after a seven-month search for a long range aviation policy.

MAKES CRITICISM

It criticized the joint chiefs of staff for not developing a unified plan of military action. And it warned that atom bombs and aircraft have wiped out "security frontiers."

The board called President Truman and Defense Secretary Foran to "exert whatever pressure is required" to bring about a unified plan. It said that "over army, navy and air force traditions" the expense of a national security is a luxury the nation no longer can afford.

In the meantime, the board said, the United States must have a "flexible" air power "capable of meeting the age of atomic bombs, or radio-active dust, or bacteriological contamination and sudden surprise attacks—no mention some of the new and terrible weapons."

BUILD UP FORCE

The legislators proposed building up the air force to 20,400 modern planes, organized in 19 groups, and the navy arm to 14,500 planes. It recommended integration of all airways and air traffic control operations in a military plan so that civil facilities would be available instantly in an emergency.

The board asked that steps be taken to promote air commerce at home and abroad, to maintain a healthy manufacturing industry, to coordinate aeronautical research, to improve flying dependability and safety, to encourage small business in flying, and to establish an air education program through the public schools.

Rap Soviet Aims

proposal for a new conference and declined to comment on war talk in the British press.

Minister of State Hector McNair, however, warned in a speech last night at a luncheon that the British Communist party was committed to a calculated policy of sabotage because "it is only by such chaos and misery they can hope to impose their will upon the social democratic people of Great Britain."

The Herald urged the west not to be content with closing its ranks in anticipation of conflict. It suggested "They should simultaneously make a renewed effort to enlist Russian cooperation in the worldwide partnership which was planned in the San Francisco Charter."

APPROACH TO RUSSIA

It appeared possible the question of an approach to Russia, suggested by Winston Churchill in foreign affairs debate Jan. 23 and backed today by the Herald, might be discussed at the 16-nation Marshall plan conference in Paris March 15. The Daily Graphic wrote off France, Italy, Norway, Sweden and Denmark as bound to be absorbed by the Communists. Only Spain and Portugal on the continent would hold the anti-Communist front, it said.

The Graphic's editorial columnist Caudwell said "We shall well thank God for Gen. Franco and Gen. Salazar" and suggested the U.S. should tell Russia "explicitly and forcibly, if she moves another mile forward in Europe, then atomic bombs will rain on the Soviet Union."

The Daily Mail warned the United States it would fail if all Europe were to succumb to the Communist offensive.

GONE FAR ENOUGH

"Russia has gone far enough," a Mail editorial said, "she must be allowed to go no farther."

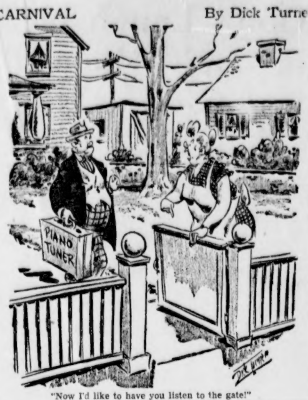

Sir Alfred Duff Cooper, former British ambassador to Paris and a member of the Churchill coalition cabinet, said Britain should take note of what happened in 1939 when it recognized a danger signal and prepared to meet it. "What we did, no doubt, was too little and too late, but still we were rearming. Today, we are rearming with alarming rapidity."

The Mail Times of London summed up the situation. "The only way now to settlement with Russia—and the peace of the world depends on it—is to take up the challenge and bring about the recovery program (Marshall Plan) and the western union (Beverly Plan) to a successful outcome."

To Charge Youths In Tin-Can Blast

Vancouver, March 1.—(CP)—Three youths will face an indictable "public mischief" charge following the explosion of a tin-can bomb a week ago which shook the home of A. E. Black.

The youths reportedly had in their possession 26 tubes of blasting gelatin, two packages of wood charcoal, plaster-of-Paris and a mixture of potassium chlorate and saltpetre.

'GARTER' CEREMONY APRIL 23

Pomp Marks Installation Of Elizabeth and Philip

By Francis Dennis

LONDON, March 1.—(Reuters)—Full ceremonial regalia will be brought out for the first time since 1913 when Princess Elizabeth, heiress presumptive to the throne, and her husband, Prince Philip, are installed on April 23 as Knights of the Garter, one of the most ancient orders of chivalry in Europe.

The ritual of installation into the 600-year-old order was revived after a lapse of 106 years when the Duke of Windsor, then Prince of Wales, took his place as a knight in 1913. Earlier chapters were held in 1911 and 1913 in the chapel of the Garter Knights, St. George's, Windsor, but there has been no similar ceremony since the outbreak of the First World War.

Princess Elizabeth was invested with the order shortly before her wedding last November. She becomes the fourth Lady of the Garter, the others being her mother, Queen Elizabeth, her grandmother, Queen Mary, and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands. The service takes place just three months before the celebration of the order's 600th anniversary, and the King and Queen and other knights of the order will walk in procession from Windsor Castle to the chapel along a route lined by men of the Household Cavalry and Foot guards.

The order was founded by King Edward III in the 14th century. Historians have generally agreed that his intention was to perpetuate the tradition of King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table. It is regarded as the highest order of chivalry in the world.

Brazilian Plane Crash Kills 19

By Elton C. Fay

RELEM, Brazil, March 1.—(BUP)—The army air base here reported today that a Brazilian air force transport missing since Saturday has crashed on an island in the mouth of the Amazon river, apparently killing 19 persons.

The wreckage of the DC-3 transport was found late yesterday near Amapa on Marajo Island. Of the 18 passengers and four crewmen aboard, officials said, only three crewmen were known to have survived.

Three women and six children were among the passengers. All aboard were Brazilians, most of them army men or members of army men's families. The plane left Rio de Janeiro Saturday for Relem. It arrived over Relem but was unable to land because of trouble with blind flying equipment.

Painter Leaves To Take Brand's Cure for Cancer

VANCOUVER, March 1.—(CP)—Harold A. Evans, 30-year-old painter, left by plane Sunday for Australia where he will undertake John Brand's reported cure for cancer. His trip is being financed by funds from his father's will and sale of most of his possessions. Two Vancouver women already are in Australia taking treatment.

The women are Mrs. Jack Norton, 36, and Mrs. Rex McIntyre, 33. In a Sydney dispatch to the Vancouver Sun today, it was reported the women had been promised "many more years of life" by Brand, a 78-year-old lawyer who claims he has been curing cancer for 50 years.

Soviet Sattelites Claim Recognition

LONDON, March 1.—(Reuters)—Foreign office spokesman Saturday confirmed that the foreign office is in touch with the Russian government supporting the claims of Czechoslovakia, Poland and Yugoslavia to be considered in planning Allied policy toward Germany. It is understood to be similar to that delivered Friday to the United States state department.

RED COUP AMAZES CZECH IMMIGRANTS

MONTREAL, March 1.—(CP)—An elderly Czech couple who had never travelled further than 100 miles from their home village learned Saturday for the first time that President Edvard Benes of Czechoslovakia had accepted the Communist-dominated ministry of Premier Klement Gottwald as they landed at nearby Dorval airport on their way to British Columbia. "It just can't be true," said Mrs. Enzel Kuttig who, with her husband will live in British Columbia with a son, Frank, a refugee when the Germans took over the Sudetenland 10 years ago. Both spoke in their native German.

"The country is ruined," was the reaction of Mr. Kuttig, a silk mill worker. Both said they expected a Communist coup sooner or later but the news of what happened was "a great shock."

U.S., Britain Retain Combined Staff Chiefs

By Elton C. Fay

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—The United States and Britain are retaining in those days of uncertainty the combined military high command that operated during most of the war.

Quartered in one of the most heavily-guarded sections of the Pentagon building, with all but specially-approved visitors barred, are the headquarters of the "Combined Chiefs of Staff."

The only official description at the day-to-day work is terse: "The Combined Chiefs of Staff consider and decide questions deriving from the wartime co-operation of Great Britain and the United States."

However, it is known that the agency provides a clearing house for a direct exchange of ideas. One of the more important post-war jobs of the joint organization has been an effort to standardize types and sizes of principal common weapons.

Along an adjacent corridor are the offices of the "Armed Forces Special Projects" section, which with guided missiles, atomic weapons and other less-known instruments of destruction. The Combined Chiefs are seven in number, four from the United States, three from Britain. The American members are Admiral William D. Vanevor, chief of staff to the president; Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of naval operations; Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff; and Gen. Carl Spaatz, air force chief of staff. British members are Admiral Sir Henry Moore, Gen. Sir William Morgan and Air Chief Marshal Sir Guy Garrod.

Jews Are Grateful For Canada's Aid

HALIFAX, March 1.—(CP)—Grateful for the aid in form of donated Canadian flags with electric light bulbs following the Holy Land, Mrs. Alisa Klausner of Jerusalem, said in an interview here yesterday.

"The Jews are grateful to Canada for the assistance they have received in the Palestine partition plan in the United Nations," she said.

Common enough in the Old Country, this sight makes Chicagoans turn and stare. Mrs. Pauline Gilman used her head to take a heavy load of clothing, donated by the Jews, to the post office. She makes a much-needed donation like this every few weeks and can carry bundles weighing up to 100 pounds on her head.

$100,000 Damage Flin Flon Fire

By Elton C. Fay

FLIN FLON, Man., March 1.—(CP)—Damage estimated unofficially at $100,000 was quelled here Saturday night by a fire—worst in the history of this Northern Manitoba mining town—destroyed the Rex theatre and threatened to spread to adjoining buildings before it was brought under control.

Theatre Manager Joe Nathanson, who occupied living quarters in the theatre building, said the fire broke out while he was at dinner in a nearby restaurant.

Every available piece of fire-fighting apparatus was brought into play to fight the flames. Equipment of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company also was used in addition to that of the town. Firemen had the flames under control about four hours after the outbreak. The theatre was unoccupied at the time.

Red Czechs' Coup Depresses Norway

OSLO, March 1.—(AP)—Premier Einar Gerhardsen declared last night that "what has happened in Czechoslovakia . . . has caused anxiety and depression" in Norway. Speaking in Frederikstad, southern Norway, he accused the Communists of being a "danger to the Norwegian people's liberty and independence."

Accused of the Norwegian Communist party . . . in their hearts . . . are adherents of terror and dictatorship like their comrades in other countries.

"The most important task in the fight for Norway's independence, for democracy and government by law is to reduce the Communist party and its influence as much as possible."

a Drama of the Wilderness

by John Fisher

● The baby didn't whimper as the minister lifted up the tinkamung—the strange board cradle in which our Northern Indians still carry their babies. The minister's words had a familiar rhythm in the little church. I couldn't understand anything, though, save the name Robert George.

I saw the mother's shadow bend low in prayer, her soft Ojibway face reverent. Beside her, the father stood bareheaded; a features sharper, more hawklike—a Cree. Neither spoke English, so the baptismal service flowed on alternately in two Indian tongues. It was an unexpected moment in my life. A few hours previously I had stepped off a modern train at this: remote outpost. Now, I felt I was back in the days of Champlain's voyageurs.

18 miles through the wilderness

After the service I looked closer at tiny Robert George, just two weeks old. His brown eyes gleamed, his thin fingers and toes were curled, and he grinned. Healthy! That youngster would have taken prizes anywhere. The minister said the family had hiked into the tiny settlement a few weeks ago, eighteen miles through the never-ending spruce forests. Why? So the Indian mother could have her baby safely at the Red Cross Outpost Hospital. I had heard that these hospitals are dots of mercy and life-saving from McBride on Vancouver Island to the Magdalen in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. I had read dramatic newspaper stories of how blood plasma was parachuted by mercy planes to Red Cross Outpost at Hudson Bay Junction in Saskatchewan. But, here I realized that Red Cross Outpost Hospitals meant more than dots on the map and newspaper headlines.

Robert George has a better chance of life. Little Robert George dozed, as his parents prepared to go back to their life of trapping and fishing. But, in a very real sense, they were not going back to the old ways. Their mother had received the best of care. Because of that alone, Robert George had a better chance of life. But, more important, she had learned the proper ways to care for a baby, the hygiene, the diet.

That is what the Red Cross hospitals mean—life. Sometimes, very rarely, these outpost stations get publicity for startling rescues. More often such drama goes unnoticed. More often still we all forget the everyday hospital round. Babies being born, routine operations, the sick, the hurt, the broken bodies.

To me this case was symbolic—parents walking 18 miles for help; receiving it at the Red Cross Hospital. I went to a christening in a little outpost and found a story as big as his Canada.

Red Cross Services include: Blood Transfusion, Outpost Hospitals, Aid to Sick and Disabled, Veterans, Treatment for Crippled Children, Discharge of the Magdalen, Home Nursing Courses, Swimming and Water Safety, etc.

Recognize Current Dollar Shortage Of Dominion in Recovery Plan

By Clyde Blackburn

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(CP)—Canada's current dollar shortage was taken into account in the final report of the Senate foreign relations committee which recommended Saturday an initial appropriation of $5,300,000 for the first year of operations of the European recovery program.

The report estimated that $300,000,000 would be spent on aid commodities outside the United States, largely in Canada and Latin America.

The committee, of which Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep.-Mich.) is chairman did not alter the original estimate of $700,000,000 as the amount of credit other Western Hemisphere countries might be expected to contribute to the program.

CANT EXPEND MORE

But it warned that no more than that figure could be expended. "To rely on any larger amount would be unrealistic in view of the present dollar exchange difficulties of Canada and certain other American countries," the report said.

It commented that United States expenditures of $200,000,000 in these countries will enable them "to meet their urgent requirements with some of their export surpluses."

Canada is understood to have indicated the possibility of providing up to $1,000,000 worth of commodities for export under the initial plan.

At Ottawa, doubts were expressed that Canada could meet the supply demands for the first year.

But available authorities said a more exclusive judgment could be given in the next few days when they have had an opportunity to study the figures and phrasing of the report in detail.

The economists questioned the possibility that this country could increase production sufficiently to meet the additional demands outlined by the U.S. committee.

However, if rationing were to be re-introduced on food products in Canada, he believed the situation would alter in favor of the European aid program.

Car Plunges in Canal, 4 Drowned, 2 Missing

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., March 1.—(CP)—Four persons were drowned and two others were missing, believed drowned, after a motorcar in which they were driving home from a drinking party plunged into the weir of the Welland Ship Canal at nearby Humberstone early yesterday.

Dead were: William D. Rogers, 45, of Welland, Ont., owner and driver of the car.

Arthur Morningstar, 38, Rogers' nephew, of nearby Crowland.

Frances Carter, 36, of Welland.

Mrs. Melvin Keeler, 38, Miss Garner's sister, of Crowland.

Missing were Mrs. Harry Rivett, about 38, of Crowland, and James Hart of Welland.

Police said they learned the missing couple were with the four victims when the party left a tavern but investigators were unable to establish whether Mrs. Rivett and Hart were in the car when it went over the weir wall, snapped a guy wire and sank to 15 feet of water.

SHORT-CIRCUITED WIRE
The broken guy wire lashed up and short-circuited hydro wires and part of the village was plunged into darkness.

After checking at the homes of Hart and Mrs. Rivett, police expressed belief the couple had been in the car but that their bodies floated out of the sunken vehicle either after the plunge or when the car was being raised.

Awailing word of Mrs. Rivett's death were her husband and nine children, Mrs. Keeler left three children.

Authorities said an inquest was unlikely.

28 LEAP-YEAR BABIES AT COAST

VANCOUVER, March 1.—(CP)—At least 28 new residents of Vancouver and district will have to wait until 1952 to celebrate their first "official" birthday.

The orchestra accepted him as full-size, too. He had the usual prerogatives accorded to a maestro: A man to hold back the heavy curtain when he appeared, a musician to pass him his baton. He shook hands properly with the concert master, invited the orchestra to rise and share the applause, and he himself returned to bow 24 times.

The audience loved it. Most of the time the young conductor was assured, poised and dignified, though twice he ran for the wings when he had finished a number, and once instead of mounting the podium he hopped up like a youngling eager to go going.

Vancouver yesterday recorded the births of 22 leap-year babies. New Westminster was second with four, while North Vancouver heralded the arrival of one.

"LORD FAUNTLEROY" LEADS ORCHESTRA

Pint-Sized Maestro, 8 In Carnegie Hall Debut

NEW YORK, March 1.—(AP)—Swinging his baton smartly, Ferruccio Burco, eight-year-old Italian conductor, made his American debut Saturday leading an 80-piece orchestra in Carnegie Hall.

It was probably the first time Carnegie Hall devotees had seen a maestro in a Little Lord Fauntleroy suit, wearing black slippers and white socks. . . . and it was about the first time, too, that a hobby-conductor was mobbed, instead of doing the mobbing himself.

The concert was remarkable in other respects too. Ferruccio stood on a box atop the usual conductor's stand. He received one basket of flowers almost as big as he was. His debut was interrupted by a woman who rushed to the front of the auditorium and read a poem in his honor.

COULDN'T SEE HEAD
Ferruccio was so short you could not see his head above the seated musicians among whom he made his way to the centre of the stage.

Royals Clinch Playoff Berth

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., March 1.—(CP)—New Westminster Royals secured a night clinch playoff spot in the northern division of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, defeating the Lewy Portland Eagles 11-4. League-leading sear Ken Ulloa paced the New Westminster attack with three goals and two assists.

Harold of SPORT

SATURDAY night's victories by Lethbridge Maple Leafs and Saskatoon Quakers were the final chapter of who's who for the playoffs in the Western Canada Hockey League and decided the pairings as well.

Although three games remain to be played, the results cannot affect the relative positions of the teams in view of the "best goals average" proviso adopted by the league.

The Saskatoon win over Regina was the big upset, wiped out the chance for Cape to finish in first place. And so it Calgary versus Lethbridge and Regina against Edmonton in the semi-finals. It is anticipated dates will be announced today.

INTERVIEWED Sunday night upon return from the disastrous trip north, Coach Frank Currie said, "The boys played just a fair game in Calgary and poorly in Lethbridge."

On the ray of sunshine on the horizon in the opinion of the Edmonton maestro, was the fact the team would be playing Regina Cape instead of Calgary Stars in the semi-finals.

"It was my wish," said Frank, "that if we had to start the series on the road, it would be on Regina, because that is where we've played our best road games all year." The Flyers coach added, "We'll certainly miss Bill Pettigrew in the playoffs."

Asked concerning the lineup for tonight's league final here with Lethbridge Leafs, Currie said he was not sure just how the team would work. He did mention, though, that Louis Holmes decided to be on the team.

AFT POTTER, president of Edmonton District Hockey Association, announced last night the third and deciding game in the north and south intermediate final series between Waterloo Mercury and Camrose Maroons would be in Ponoka on Wednesday night.

Potter confirmed that first two games between Westsaskwicheon Canadians and Lethbridge Native Sons for the Alberta junior title would be in Lethbridge on March 4 and 5. He added that just as soon as the senior picture was clarified, dates for the balance of the best-of-seven series would be announced.

Ken Henry, of Westsaskwicheon Canadians, said at least one more year of junior hockey. They are Georges Hendry and Mel Nabbs, Henderson Purvis and Brent McNab, and forwards Appleton, Michael Smith, Landmark and Stasick.

Cochran Maury Van Vleet of Alberta Golden Bears, upon return from the basketball invasion of Montana and Wyoming that Jim MacRae was the Golden's stand-out of the trip.

'Peg Flyers Cop Playoff Opener
WINNIPEG, Mar. 1.—(CP)—Winning Flyers were the opening game of the Manitoba Senior League final playoffs last night, defeating Winnipeg Pioneers 5-2. Second game of the best-of-seven series will be played Tuesday night.

Rangers and 'Wings Turn Back Canadians
NEW YORK, March 1.—(CP)—With clever Ed Kullman scoring two goals, the New York Rangers tightened their hold on third place in the National Hockey League defeating Montreal Canadiens 5-2 last night before 15,925 fans in Madison Square Garden. Canadians lost Red Wings at Montreal Saturday night.

In a rough game punctuated by penalties, one of them a minute high-taking effort by Rangers' Phil Watson, the Canadians poured in all their scoring in the first two periods. In the 24th minute of the second period, Watson broke out in the second frame when Roger Leger and Don Smith mixed and Leger gave his first penalty of the season—two minutes for roughing.

U.S.A. Canadian coach told the Wings 22 to 31 Saturday night game. The Canadiens, who were a 40-goal team, were attacked, and brilliant in the second frame when Leger and Watson scored. The Canadiens were the worst in a long time, being beaten on their own side. But his defense, often left him uncovered in front of the net.

Rimstad Tops Scoring Race By One Point

Al McDougall of Regina, and Lethbridge Maple Leafs' Steve Latoski both moved to within striking distance of Mervy Rimstad in the Western Senior Hockey League point-getting race as a result of scoring spurs Saturday night.

However, the easy Flyers' fabled one goal and still holds the lead with 78 points, one better than McDougall.

Steve Latoski made the biggest jump up the ladder, turning in seven five-point effort against Flyers Saturday night. He is now riding a third spot with 73 points, 21 tallies and 52 assists.

Four other Flyers—Bill Maher, "Handy" Andy Ciovecch and Bing Merila—are among the top 12 league scorers. The men are Frank Latour of Three Rivers, Que., and Alvin Albin of the United Commercial Ski Club, Quebec.

YVON GAGNON, coach of Albin, said his pupil and Latour were probably leave today for Edmonton. The men are expected to play by Gaston Bacon, who is a member of the Union Commercial Ski Club.

Latour, who only arrived at his hotel Saturday and was not able to get in practice runs in the big Mount Norquay course, made his debut in the latter 15-5 yesterday's competition, but was unable to touch his hands to the snow on each leap and was credited with a fall on both leaps.

BEST GOAL AVERAGE
CALGARY, March 1.—(CP)—P. McDonald, president of the Western Senior Hockey League said here last night league retention states that "in the event of two clubs finishing the schedule with the same number of points, the club with the best goal average will be given the all position."

McDonald was referring to the fact that the Regina Capitals, who are in the event of a tie for fourth place, Lethbridge and Saskatoon place 5-2 to Detroit Red Wings at the best goal average.

Summary at New York
First period: 1. Rangers, 2 goals; 2. Canadiens, 1 goal. Second period: 2. Rangers, 2 goals; 3. Canadiens, 1 goal. Third period: 1. Rangers, 1 goal; 2. Canadiens, 1 goal. Total: 1. Rangers, 4 goals; 2. Canadiens, 3 goals.

University Curling Cup Stays Here

WINNIPEG, Mar. 1.—(CP)—Five United States imports again may line up with any senior team next season, but Canadian football will attempt to eliminate the need for importing help by a new program aimed at developing its own junior talent.

Those were the top policy decisions of executive and delegates from the six affiliated leagues at the Canadian Rugby Union's annual meeting here Saturday.

Unlimited substitution will be permitted, instead of allowing only two players on a team to re-enter the game after a timeout. The policy of the 1947 season, which required a kicking side recovers the ball without making yards will be abandoned the down over again with a 25-yard penalty from the point of recovery. Last season, the penalty under this off-charge section was paid a 2-0-10 total score.

The import rule stirred considerable controversy before it was extended for another two-year trial.

Providence Reds Shatter Records
PROVIDENCE, Mar. 1.—(CP)—Providence Reds smashed two American Hockey League records, tied one, and approached a fourth as they crushed Hershey Bears 10-3 last night.

Veteran Cap Liscombe had five goals for his team, the first 101 for the year, a league record. The win gave the Reds 35 points in the season, one more than Buffalo's 1954 mark. It was Red's 24th home victory, matching another Boston record, and their 285 goals for the season were one more than the league's high water mark.

RCAP Flyers Rack Up Tournament Triumph
PARIS, March 1.—(Reuters)—RCAP Flyers, Canadian Olympic hockey champions, overwhelmed Czechoslovakia 3-4 Saturday night in the opening game of an international tournament which ends March 6.

As Remond led the Czechs with three goals while L. Gagny, Lehnitz and playing coach Frank Boucher each notched a pair, Red Hibbard rounded out the scoring.

Peg Tram Workers Reject Pay Offer

WINNIPEG, March 1.—(CP)—Union employees of the Winnipeg Electric Company last night unanimously rejected an offer of a wage boost of 31 cents an hour after union officials said it was based on "if and when the company receives fare increases."

Officials of the Winnipeg Electric Employees Federation Council, One Big Union, told employees the union had reduced its demands from 72 cents an hour to 45 in negotiations with provincial government conciliator Harris S. U.S. Fears Dominion's Fisheries' Competition

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(CP)—Representative Schuyler O. Bland (Dem.-Va.) Saturday published in the Congressional record a protest against waning interest in United States fisheries, while Canada, "our chief competitor, is reorganizing and expanding."

Bland put into the Record the text of a speech made by Fisheries Minister MacKinnon in Quebec early last month and a comment on it issued by the National Fisheries Institute of Washington, D.C. "While our sportsmen are not interested in our fisheries seem to be in the process of reduction, our competitors north of us are increasing their expenditures," Bland said.

He said that Mr. MacKinnon advocates for Canada applies all the more to us.

The Fisheries Institute commented that for lack of funds the Fish and Wildlife Service can no longer mail the daily market reports that the service—the "Hull"

Long-Time Bulletin Editor Now Retires

Announcement of retirement on pension of John Howey, editor of The Bulletin, was made Monday by H. L. Straight, publisher, Harold L. Weir, O.R.E. associate editor of The Bulletin since 1940, successor Mr. Howey as editor, of the editorial page.

Mr. Howey started his career with this newspaper as bookkeeper in 1888 under the late Hon. Frank Oliver, who founded it in 1880. He became its editor in 1905.

Fidelity of service and a sincere desire to serve the people of this province were the guiding principles in Mr. Howey's writings. His editorials expressed the man. They had a natural courtesy, the courtesy of a good heart.

He displayed a delicate concern for the views and the feelings of others and won the good will of people in all walks of life. His writings were an expression of

Security in Dominion Answer to Communism

QUEBEC, March 1.—(CP)—Canada's answer to Communism is economic and social security providing a level of life that Communism cannot match, Health Minister Martin said Saturday night.

He said in an address in French at a meeting of the Quebec Reform Club that "these are decisive years for democracy."

"As world citizens, we cannot escape the fate of our generation. In the parliament of the world, the political leadership of mankind has long been debated and in many countries will soon be put to the vote."

"Soon we shall know whether this century will be dedicated to democracy or whether, under Communism, the lights will go out all over the world."

Mr. Martin said the measure of Canadian liberalism is economic and social security "to its record of achievement." The Dominion's "three outstanding federal measures" in this field were the old-age pension, unemployment insurance and family allowance, all put into operation by Liberal governments.

In family allowances and old-age pensions alone, total federal payments to Quebec province now exceed $20,000,000.

Mr. Martin emphasized that Canadians' needs can be met only by concerted and continuous action by all levels of government—local, provincial and federal—with the valuable aid of hundreds of voluntary agencies.

"The federal government cannot do the job alone. To provide for the social security of Canadians, there must be the closest cooperation between province and province, and between the federal government and the provinces."

Prettiness, Fattery Mark Style Showing Hospital Leaguers Serve Tea at Show

True to fashion's dictates, prettiness, softness and fatness are stressed in the new-season style story. Prologue of the story in Edmonton was given at the opening of the Thompson and Dynes spring fashion show Monday afternoon. The show will be presented again Tuesday afternoon.

Tes was served by members of the Junior Hospital League. There is no regimentation of fashion although this spring and the winter flaring lines are prominent. The show was a slim navy-blue polka-dot dress with simple white lace and a collar of white and blue piping and cuffs.

Star-of-the-show was a grand, shimmering cape—full length with an extravagantly wide flare, worn by Mrs. Dale Delaney. Under the cape she wore a slim navy-blue polka-dot dress with simple white lace and a collar of white and blue piping and cuffs.

Queen of the after-dinner dress was modeled by Kay Huff, a beaming black Chantilly lace with dipping ballerina neckline. With it she wore a museum pink satin hat trimmed with black lace.

Outstanding among the evening dresses was a delicate, creamy beige print with beautifully blended flowers splashed over it. The skirt was a low, full, flattering to soft pretty shoulder.

Hats were lavish and breath-taking with their extravagant trimming of flowers, quills, satin, velvet and taffeta ribbons. Here again the silhouette was varied, ranging from the gamut from tiny close-to-the-head models to wide spanning cartwheels of straw. One which drew an appreciative sigh from the audience was a black Milan straw with elegant points of jacy black taffeta banded around the brim and an old color and that final dash of glamour.

Highlighting the show was a sweetly charming and youthful dress of white material, with wide lace inserts in the skirt. It was fashioned with an off-the-shoulder collar and wide, ruffled, banded the lavishly full skirt. With it the model wore elbow-length mittens of matching material, a headpiece of starched lace and carried a nosegay of lilacs-fabulous.

Modelling in the show were Mrs. D. B. Fraser, Mrs. Dale Delaney, Mrs. A. R. Bellward, Mrs. Philip Jean, Mrs. A. M. Maheson, Mrs. D. Stewart, Mrs. Donald Fraser, Joyce Farrell, Kathleen Huff and Anne Armstrong.

Exotic New Hats Sold at Festival

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 1.—(AP) — Hats named "Abolition Prapp" and "Fete Envoque" the latter like a vegetable market were shown at a Spring festival here Saturday.

But the one that got the purse strings loose was the chapel-like Mississippi river steamboat. It was named "Louisiana".

The river boat named "Louisiana" was sold twice by radio star Allen, turned back each time for resale, and finally given to Gracie to wear. All told, it brought in $500 for charity at the festival—Fete Des Chap.

"Louisiana" was designed by Grace Nugent of California. Shaped like a steamship, the sailor crown had small stacks waving smoke-smelling. It had flowered daisy-side-wheel and two tiny passengers on the pale blue crown.

"Fete Envoque," by Gerald St. Louis, was a miniature of fruit and vegetables, all a flourish of bitternut. It brought $135 at the auction.

"Desire" was all brimming over with a woman's desire for a shanting straw caught up with a rose on either side. Mary Good, designer, told.

"Abolition," by Walter Florent, was a frothy brown straw trimmed in larkspur blue.

Reception following the ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Jones, 1210 1st St. Mrs. McNutt proposed the toast to the bride.

The couple will live in Metts-Kow.

Austerity Restricts Scope of Authors

PROVINCIAL (CP)—Austerity has restricted the situations British authors may use in writing books, wrote Barbara Cartland, here with her husband on a business trip on behalf of the British authors, said in a recent interview.

"You can dress up your heroine in glamorous clothes or raiment. You can't give her a glamorous occupation because luxury is directed. You can't describe a dinner party, you can't even send her for a ride in a car."

But she has found a compromise. "I'm writing a regency novel."

Bobby Soxers Have Modified New Look

PANAMA, March 1.—(CP)—Even bobby soxers can have a "New Look" this spring.

But nothing will be heard to hear that the rest of the silhouette is acquired without exaggeration. Corsets and hip padding are taboo.

200,000 Canadians Jobless in Feb.

But "Marked Improvement" In Employment Picture Seen

OTTAWA, March 1.—(CP)—Nearly 200,000 Canadians were looking for jobs in mid-February but "marked improvement" in the employment picture may be expected within the next few weeks, Labor Minister Mitchell said today.

Issuing his monthly statement on manpower, the minister said the week in seasonal unemployment had been reached with 108,000 unemployed applicants registered with the national employment service at Feb. 12. The figure was 2,000 above the total for the same time last year, in contrast to the situation over the last 12 months when applicants have consistently been below the previous year's level.

The number of unemployed applicants jumped from 16,000 in mid-January to 198,000 in the same period of the new 12,000, or 12,000 more men and 8,000 women.

UNFILED VACANCIES
Unfiled vacancies went from 36,000 to 31,000 in the same period, the latter figure including 17,000 for men and 14,000 for women. On the practice there were 20,000 applicants and 4,000 vacancies. The seasonal slump in industrial activity had reflected a further increase in applicants. Agricultural employment was at the winter low. In mining, labor demand and turnover were low, but replacement was needed with the return to the farms for spring planting.

In British Columbia there were 31,000 applicants and 2,000 vacancies. The labor surplus had been increasing steadily.

UNPLACED APPLICANTS
Unplaced applicants and unfilled vacancies in brackets recorded by National Employment Service at March 1 (1952): Montreal 17,500 (5,343); Hamilton 3,500 (1,132); London 1,100; Calgary 3,691 (421); Edmonton 3,743 (503); Winnipeg 2,235 (1,761); Saskatoon 2,308 (280); Vancouver 10,963 (1,941); Victoria 2,163 (262).

More Troops Land British Honduras

BRITISH Honduras, March 1.—(Reuters)—After being delayed by engine trouble, the British cruiser Devonshire, with men of the Gloucestershire regiment on board, has today arrived in the harbor to reinforce British troops in the island.

News that the Devonshire, which had been expected yesterday had been delayed was given by Admiral Sir William Tennant, commander of the navy's West Indies Station. Sir William came here aboard the cruiser Sheffield, which arrived three days ago.

He said the Devonshire would reinforce British troops, fighting vehicles and anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns in the island.

Sir William added: "No emergency now exists. Everything is calm and the border is entirely peaceful."

The Devonshire is bringing a battalion of the Gloucesters from Jamaica, 600 miles away, to support the British troops in the island. Determination to defend British Honduras against a Guatemala claim to possession.

100 Sportsmen Saved Lake Erie Ice Floes

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., March 1.—(CP)—Searing temperature and whipping winds combined at the week-end to honeycomb miles of shoreward ice in the eastern tip of Lake Erie, marooning about 100 anglers Saturday and causing a groundless report yesterday that 12 men were drifting out into the lake on an ice floe.

At noon yesterday a Port Colborne fisherman told the fire department a group of men were being carried away on a five-foot-wide ice floe. The fire department tried to cross the hazy channel made by the 30-mile-an-hour wind in a flat-bottomed row boat. The water forced the boat back.

The boat's hull of the United States Coast Guard and a tugboat piloted by Bill Lehman of Welland almost combed the area. Signs of the fishermen were found and the search was discontinued.

But Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pore, who live on the lake shore at St. Catharines about six miles from Welland, were rescued last night when they floated about a mile out on the ice. They said their flounders were carried away on a five-foot-wide ice floe. The flounders were carried away on a five-foot-wide ice floe.

WAR POSSIBLE IN NORTH WASTES

Says Canadian Arctic Not Defensive Barrier

OTTAWA, March 1.—(CP)—Air Vice-Marshal Sir Leslie Brown, commander of Britain's land-air warfare school, does not believe that the Arctic provides any natural defensive barrier for North America.

In an interview Saturday, the former commander of the 84 Tactical Group of the Royal Air Force which supported the First Canadian Army throughout the campaign in Northwest Europe, indicated that he believed war could be waged across the Arctic wastes.

"We in Britain, however, are looking at Canada and the United States for the solution of the problems that the Arctic creates for military operations," he added, suggesting that the war already done by the armed forces of the two countries has been progressing satisfactorily.

CANADIANS AT SCHOOL

The British land-air warfare school, situated at old Sarum on Salisbury Plains, is attended by 10 to 15 Canadian Army students a year and a Canadian and United States officer are on the staff, Sir Leslie said.

The Canadian Army-in-force report on "Operation Canaan," the rescue of the injured Canadian John Turner, a Church of England missionary, from the Baffin Island mission last fall—was used in the school as a vivid example of successful combined operation between the two services, Sir Leslie said.

NO OPPORTUNITIES

Unfortunately in England we do not get such opportunities for practical application of our studies.

The air vice-marshal will be in Canada for the next two weeks before going to Washington for conferences with U. S. Army Air Force officers.
